

flatex once again awarded "Broker of the Year" in multiple categories - for the first time also as "Best Crypto Broker"

- flatex was once again named Broker of the Year in the main category "Best Online Broker" and "Best ETF & Fund Broker" in the 2025 "Broker Election"
- For the first time, flatex secured first place in the "Best Crypto Broker" category, following the launch of its Crypto offering only in December 2024
- The awards are based on the votes of over 87,000 retail investors

The results of the 2025 "Broker Election" published on Wednesday named flatex "Broker of the Year" in three categories. In the categories "Best Online Broker" and "Best ETF & Fund Broker", which are traditionally the most important ones for flatex, a clear majority of participating retail investors once again opted for flatex's price, product and service offering.

flatex consistently secures top positions in these categories, having earned five first-place and one second-place ranking over the past three years. Following the launch of its Crypto offering in December 2024, flatex quickly secured the top spot in investor ratings, thanks to its emphasis on low total costs and high transparency.

flatex's "Broker Election" rankings

	2022	2023	2024	2025
Best Online Broker	1	1	2	1
Best ETF & Fund Broker	1	1	1	1
Best Crypto Broker	-	-	-	1

Tobias Spreiter, responsible for Product Development at flatex, said: "We take great pride in these three prestigious awards and particularly in the consistency with which flatex has placed itself at the top of the German online brokerage landscape in terms of customer perception. The fact that flatex is already considered as the best Crypto offering on the market after just a few months demonstrates our success in attracting crypto-savvy investors through our commitment to lowest total costs, high transparency, and reliability."

About the 2025 "Broker Election"
